Walking Nature Trails

The EIC is a University of Michigan-Dearborn facility that promotes environmental sustainability through community education and scientific research. The Center is the gateway to the 300-acre Environmental Study Area available to university students, school groups, and the public. Please visit them at www.umd.umich.edu/eic/ for trail maps and directions.

The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village

The ultimate place to explore what Americans past and present have imagined and invented a remarkable destination that brings American ideas and innovations to life. The indoor museum includes pieces of history you can't see or touch anywhere else, sit on the Rosa Parks Bus, step inside a 30' steam engine, see the car John F. Kennedy was riding in when he was assassinated. As you walk outside into Greenfield Village you will feel like you are stepping into an 80-acre time machine. It takes you back to the sights, sounds and sensations of America's past. All in one place you can see Thomas Edison's laboratory, the courthouse where Abraham Lincoln practiced laws, ride in a genuine Model T, "pull" glass with world-class artisans, watch an 1867 baseball game and ride a train with a 19th century steam engine. The Ford Rouge Factory Tour

Detroit's #1 Automotive Attraction. More than a walk along an assembly line the Ford Rouge Factory Tour is an excursion Where environmental innovation and industrial production combine. Growing on top of the Dearborn Truck Plant is the world's largest living roof, effectively turning the roof into a 10.4-acre garden.

Local Cultural Museums

- Hitsville U.S.A. aka The Motown Museum was headquarters to Motown Records' establishment in 1959 by Berry Gordy. It is now home to an extensive array of Motown Artifacts, photographs and other memorabilia.
- The Charles H. Wright Museum was founded in 1965 and holds the world's largest permanent exhibit on African American culture. The museum owns more than 35,000 artifacts and archival materials relevant to African American diaspora.
- The Arab American National Museum is the first and only museum in the United States devoted to Arab American history and culture. By bringing the voices and faces of Arab Americans to mainstream audiences, they continue their commitment to dispel misconceptions about Arab Americans and other minorities.
